BOLDMAN TECHNOLOGY SOLUTIONS · HERE TO HELP

Apps. Websites. Software. AI.

I’m here to help you get more done for less.

If your business is stuck with a tired website, a spreadsheet running the whole shop, or an idea that never got built — I can help. In my spare time I take on websites, apps, software, and practical AI for small and mid-sized companies. We start with a conversation, not a contract. I’ll tell you honestly what I can do, and what I can’t.

01

Apps

A simple app your people will actually use. I keep it to what helps — not a pile of features nobody asked for.

02

Websites

A site that looks like you, works on a phone, and makes it easy for someone to call, book, or buy.

03

Software & AI

I clean up the messy parts — dashboards, automation, and AI that save hours instead of adding homework.

I can probably help if you…

- Run a small or mid-sized company and just need someone reliable to build or fix the tech.
- Want a real website or app without hiring an agency or bringing on a full-time person.
- Already have something built that almost works — and you need it finished or cleaned up.
- Would rather talk it through first. No pressure. If I’m not the right fit, I’ll say so.

How I like to start

Talk Just tell me what’s getting in the way. What’s broken, missing, or eating your week?

Plan I’ll come back in plain English: what I’d do, what I wouldn’t, and a fair range.

Help If it feels right, we start small, get something useful in your hands, then go from there.

Need a hand — or know someone who does?

Call, email, or hit the site. Happy to listen first.
